The SAR is a historical, educational, and patriotic non-profit, United States 501(c)3, corporation that seeks to maintain and extend

- * the institutions of American freedom
- * an appreciation for true patriotism
- * a respect for our national symbols
- * the value of American citizenship
- * the unifying force of e pluribus unum that has created, from the people of many nations, one nation and one people.

We do this by perpetuating the stories of patriotism, courage, sacrifice, tragedy, and triumph of the men who achieved the independence of the American people in the belief that these stories are universal ones of man's eternal struggle against tyranny, relevant to all time, and will inspire and strengthen each succeeding generation as it too is called upon to defend our freedoms on the battlefield and in our public institutions.

President's Message

Compatriots,

As we participate in the Holiday Season we have many things to be thankful for. Good health? Yes, we are alive and breathing are we not. And most of us are surrounded by people who love us. When you are out and about this holiday season hold a door open for someone, in the dining room or restaurant hold the chair for a lady, let someone in at the check-out line at the grocery store. I can tell you they won't expect it, and guarantee, you will feel better. If you feel sad for yourself, go visit an elderly person in a nursing home or assisted living facility. You will come out with a hop in your step and thinking to yourself "I don't have it bad after all". In other words, do something nice for someone else. You'll be glad you did.

Let us also remember our veterans. The Wreaths Across America project is a great way to remember our fallen heroes. It began over nineteen years ago when the Worcester Wreath Company from Harrington, Maine initiated a tradition of donating and placing wreaths on the headstones of our nations fallen heroes at Arlington National Cemetery. Recognition of the service and sacrifice of our veterans, and their families, is especially poignant during the traditional holiday season. The purpose is to pay tribute to those who have served and who have made the ultimate sacrifice. The project can be contacted at:

www.wreathscrossamerica.org

I want to wish all of you and your families a very Merry Christmas, and a Happy New Year. Yes, Christmas. I also think it is time to keep Christ in Christmas. Our founding fathers thought so, and we should do the same.

Gerry Meeks,

President, Florida Society, Sons of the American Revolution.

EDITOR'S CUT

Every issue of The Florida Patriot provides the Editor an opportunity to sound off on anything running through his mind. This issue I'll deal with the Publication contests available to chapter and state society publications at the state and national levels. The Florida Society has such a contest for its chapters, All of these contests use the same criteria for judging a publication which can be found at http://www.sar.org/Committees/Newsletters_and_Periodicals/Judging_Guidelines.

My point here is that the selection of a 'winner' is based on content: Chapter, State and/or National activities, a calendar and/or notices of events, membership info, such as welcoming of new members, remembering the deceased, etc., special observances announced and/or reported, helpfulness to readers, general interest of articles, and special stories. Thus, I've tried to incorporate as many of these elements into The Florida Patriot as I can squeeze in all the while hoping that these editorial selections will enhance our magazine in the eyes of the national judges.

At times I will get comments along the lines of including everything a chapter submits for the Chapter News section. Space allocation to include the above elements has limited what space I can give to each of these elements.

On another note, I would like to thank the leadership of the Naples Chapter for their submission of all of the e-mail capable members to the Electronic Subscription listing. This easily doubled the number of such subscriptions. I would encourage each chapter which uses e-mail to distribute their chapter's newsletters, to follow Naples Chapter's example and ask their members to receive The Florida Patriot in this manner as well. We spend $9,000.00 a year in printing and mailing the Florida Patriot. Any amount that we can reduce this figure is more state money that can go toward other state programs.

Steven Williams

Content submission deadline for the Spring issue of The Florida Patriot is March 28th.

Veterans Day BBQ

The residents at the Douglas T. Jacobson Veterans Home in Port Charlotte were treated to a BBQ luncheon on Veterans Day in recognition of their unselfish commitment and past performance of military duty for our country. The whole idea started when the Activities Director of the veterans facility asked the Saramana Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution (SAR) if they could provide a Color Guard on Veterans Day for the residents. The requested Color Guard was already committed to the large Veterans' Day parade in Sarasota. However, the SAR did recommend the local JROTC unit at the High School be given the opportunity to perform. The Navy JROTC Color Guard arrived and performed with the utmost precision. They can be proud of their performance. The SAR then partnered with an anonymous benefactor who had already planned for a BBQ at the facility. The partnership included collecting funds in order to share the cost of the event with the prime benefactor. Further, members of the SAR that participated in the Sarasota parade made the trip to be with the veterans. The BBQ consisted of pulled pork sandwiches, potato salads, beans, lemonade and countless cookies and cakes. There were 175 full meals served with extra desserts to go around. The facility provided a large tent for visitors and residents alike where a 13 year old student sang Patriotic songs and tunes of the 50's up through the present day. Her voice was extremely melodious and soothing to the listeners to the point where not another sound could be heard during her performance. One of the SAR uniformed members led the group in pledging allegiance to the Flag after the invocation. Everyone then enjoyed the various speakers that presented themselves to the audience. The two pictures show the Veterans and guests alike giving their undivided attention to the speaker at the podium. The other picture depicts the benefactor and the SAR team members that assisted with the event. If anyone ever gets the opportunity to visit veterans and the workers at the Douglas T. Jacobson Veterans Residence in Port Charlotte, they will never forget the experience and the joy they will have by giving our unsung heroes some much needed company. The BBQ Team is looking forward to the next event at this facility and commends the Resident Staff Members for attending to the special needs of the veterans in a facility that is sparkling clean.

Forgotten Heroes of the American Revolution

Joshua Taylor was born in Danbury Connecticut on 29 August 1757 and on May 21, 1775 at the age of twenty three he left the family farm to join the 6th Company in Colonel David Waterbury's Regiment commanded by Captain Noble Benedict. He only served for seven months in those pre-war days and was discharged on December 13, 1775.

The following Spring, with the heat of war burning in the hearts of men who would be free, Joshua joined Captain Steven Bett's Company. 22nd Regiment of the Connecticut Line.

As the war moved into New Jersey, General Washington along with less than 5,000 battered troops, was pushed across the Delaware by Cornwallis' superb army and unit after unit in the New England States were disbanded. So Joshua found himself a civilian again.

In the Spring of 1777, following Washington's victory at Princeton and the return of the Continental Congress to Philadelphia, Connecticut became the hub of British activity. In April, both Danbury and Ridgefield were the sites of vigorous battles and Burgoyne's forces were heading south from Canada. So, on June 2, 1777 Joshua re-enlisted once again and this time it was for the duration of the war.

He was quickly promoted to Sergeant and was assigned to Captain Ethrian Kimberly's Company manning the defences as the 'New Fort' at West Point was being built. The old one had been destroyed by Henry Clinton. And while Washington's army was at Valley Forge, the Polish military engineer, Colonel Tadeusz Kościuszko, was busy supervising the construction of a new fort high on the bluff overlooking the Hudson River.

Joshua and other patriots like him helped build that fort, lay the chain, and defend it while Washington used it as his headquarters. To their credit, the fort stayed in American hands until the end of the war and it remained a fort until May of 1784 when it became the base for the United States "Corps of Artillery and Engineers." It wasn't until July 4, 1802, that it became the United States Military Academy.

As for Joshua, in 1777 while on Christmas leave from West Point, he returned to Redding, Connecticut and wed Enice Seeley in her family living room. Joshua could have sat out the war after being discharged twice. He could have said, "I've done my part." But, he didn't! He believed in the cause of the American people and returned time-and-again to fight for his beliefs.

Joshua is the Patriot Ancestor of Brevard member Jack Dibble.

American Revolution Era Trivia

When was the first execution and why?

The first execution in the American Army occurred on June 27, 1776. A treacherous guard, Thomas Hickey, plotted with others to capture George Washington and turn him over to Sir William Howe. Hickey was tried, convicted, and formally executed in New York.

Uniforms Standardized in 1779

Army uniforms were standardized by order of the Continental Army in October 1779 when Gen. Washington, the commander-in-chief, prescribed a uniform thru a general order. The coat was blue. The facings for the uniform were varied - white, buff, red and blue; the artillery coats were faced with scarlet and with scarlet linings, and the light dragoon's coats faced with white; white buttons and lining”

How much do you know about Colonial Times?

(Answer)

The illustration on page 3 shows a bookbinder at work ‘rounding’ the spine of a book. A ‘flat back’ spine tends to cave in and cause the front edge of the leaves to bugle forward. Believe it or not, ‘Hand Bookbinding; is done today much as it was done in the fifteenth century. Almost all hard-covered books are now bound in covers made separately and held in place by nothing more than glue.

Throughout the colonial period and for almost a half-century after the Revolution, all American made books were hand bound, some well, some shoddily. The leaves (pages) of a properly bound book are sewn into cords which are tied firmly into binding boards.

There was, and is, much more to binding a book than you might image. And the bookbinder did more than just cover a book.

These Months in History

January 1, 1770. John Adams and his family celebrated New Year’s Day by eating “cherry bounce pasties” and other home made cookies.

January 10, 1792. The US House passed a bill to establish the U.S. Post office and post roads.

February 15, 1778 Abigail Adams complained of women’s educational discrimination.

February 16, 1777 Samuel Adams reported to James Warren that a detachment of Continental Regulars were sent to put down the Tories on the Eastern Shores of the Chesapeake.

February 18, 1793. President Washington presented Congress with a report and plat map for the District of Columbia.

Who Wants Members?

Well, I hope you said ‘I do’. There shouldn’t be a single chapter anywhere that would suggest that they have ‘enough.’ The reasons for attracting new members - and keeping them - are many. We have pledged ourselves to honor our Patriot Ancestors. We do that by getting out in public and to be fervent about our heritage. That sounds much like religious proselytizing, doesn’t it? Well, to be honest, we have to do some of that. We show our passion for the goals of our chapter, our state, and national societies. To some extent, we have to do a bit of bragging - by not hiding our light under a basket. Don’t be conceited. Instead, when you do something good, get the word out.

What’s the point in all of this? There are some men out there - not many - who are looking around for something to do with their time. Maybe they’re retired, or the kids are old enough to fend for themselves, or whatever. Not counting these few men, we can’t sit back and wait for them to come knocking on our collective doors. They won’t notice us if they can’t see us. They can’t see us if we stay at home watching football or car races. We HAVE to get out and be seen. Whether it’s in any of the St. Patrick’s Day, Memorial Day, 4th of July, Veterans Day, or Christmas parades throughout the year or going to schools, Veteran’s Centers, speaking at other organizations, and/or getting proclamations from local communities, we need to be ‘out there’ as a recognizable organization. Get a set of period clothes (civilian or military) or wear one of the blazers with a SAR patch and wear a tricorne hat! That alone will get people coming up and talking to you - especially little kids. Everyone will want to have a picture taken with you.

From these contacts you will very likely get someone to decide to put in the work to join and become a member of your chapter. So now you’ve got your marching orders. As Jean Luc Picard would say, “Make it so.”

How did you do?

The More You Know . . .

To get ahead in your job these days, you need to have the right skills, information, and experience. The old saying that knowledge is power really is true. The more you know, the more effectively you'll be able to do your job, and the more quickly you can help in an organization.

That's why training is so important. It's the way to acquire the new skills and knowledge that will allow you to improve your performance. Here are some suggestions for getting the most from any training session:

_ Be open to new information and experiences. Go into each training session with the attitude that you are going to learn something useful— something that will increase your job satisfaction and improve your performance.

_ Take responsibility for your own learning. Training can't succeed unless you feel a sense of ownership for your own chapter's growth.

_ Take notes. Even with the best intentions, you probably won't remember much about a training session after a week or two. Jot down key information.

_ Ask questions. Never be afraid to ask about anything you don't understand. Don't leave any training session with unanswered questions.

_ Participate in discussions and activities. Learning is an active, interactive process. The more you participate, the more you'll learn.

_ Link what you learn to what you already know. The trick to learning something new is to connect it to something already on file in your brain. That way new knowledge becomes firmly embedded instead of soon lost and forgotten.

_ Read training materials. Be sure to read any handouts offered during the session.

_ Don't be afraid to make mistakes and learn from them. Don't worry about looking foolish if you don't know all the answers. It's okay to make mistakes during training. That's how you learn. It's better to make a mistake in training, after all, than later on.

_ Put what you've learned to use right away. Go right back to the job and start using what you learned to make you more productive, to improve the quality of your chapter, and so on.

I am the inferior of any man whose rights I trample under foot.

- Robert G Ingersoll, "Liberty"

Information Management

Develop a computer filing system that really works

All that information can create major storage and retrieval problems. Fortunately a good filing system can go a long way toward keeping the lid on information overload and prevent your being buried under a blizzard of data. Here are some helpful tips to keep in mind:

File as you go. Don't allow data files to pile up. The bigger the pile, the harder it'll be to motivate yourself to file it. It's easier to file just a few documents at a time.

Keep files current..

Don't overstuff file folders. Dividing by date is often a good idea. When a folder gets too full, it's time to do a thorough file cleaning and dispose of unnecessary documents.

Keep file folders well organized. File by subject or individual name in alphabetical order. Think of how much time you could waste looking for a misfiled document.

Minimize "miscellaneous" documents. Catchall file folders usually end up being useless, since you usually have to sift through a lot of what you don't want to find what you do want. If you do have miscellaneous documents to file, at least group them by topic or date to make them more accessible later.

Weed outdated or redundant documents. This will make important documents easier to find, and it will free up some space in your file folder.

DAR Outreach = Membership

What's missing from this picture? Answer: You.

This is the Florida Society's table at a Florida DAR Society Forum held twice a year. These forums are held in the Fall (September) and Spring (March/April) and are attended by 400 - 500 DAR ladies. What is remarkable about this is that everytime hundreds will come by the table and talk. And from these conversations, connections are made and contacts for their sons, grandsons, brothers, nephews, and frequently their husbands and fathers are explored. By not being there and spending a couple hours sitting with the DAR Liaison committee members, you are missing out on the opportunity to promote your chapter. And understand this - questions come up about SAR chapters in ALL parts of the state. Contacts for your chapter are waiting.

Contact DAR Liaison Committee Chair Steve Williams swilliams16@cfl.rr.com to sign up for the next Forum.

Did You Know?

That when President John Tyler retired from the presidency of the United States in 1845, his political career did not end. In 1861, he was elected to represent his native state, Virginia, in the House of Representatives of the Confederacy. He was the only United States President to serve in the rebel government.

Respectfully submitted

Funding for Florida's Future

Won't you help the Florida Society? What are we doing is establishing a fund that will specifically fund youth, chapter, Florida Society, and National Society programs. So that in the future, monies needed to operate these funds will not have to come from member dues or the operational funds of our society, but from this newly established Funding for Florida's Future (F4F₂).

What needs to be done? A building of income producing funds aimed specifically toward a program or programs the donor is interested in and is willing to put their money towards.

Can I help with a specific program? Yes. Any contributions can be directed specifically toward your interest - be it CAAH Endowment Trust, Operating Trust, JROTC, Eagle Scout, Knight Essay, Rumbaugh Oration to name just a few of the options. These donations are to build an endowment that funds these programs forever.

How can I help? By making a contribution to the F4F₂ Fund. It really doesn't matter how much or to what fund you contribute. It just needs each of us and friends of the Society to make a contribution. If everyone would just give a dollar, we will have $1800. If everyone gave $5 each, we would have $9000. If we do this for 10 years, we have $90,000.

Won't you help us? Fill out the form at the bottom of this page, staple your check (Made out to 'Treasurer, FLSSAR') or cash to the form. Fill out your name, address, other information, and especially how you want the money to be directed. Then give your gift to the Florida Society Treasurer or address an envelope and mail it to:

REVOLUTIONARY WAR MONUMENT DEDICATED ON VETERANS DAY 2010

Past presidents Ben DuBose and Carl Green flank monument after dedication. Wording at top reads: AMERICAN REVOLUTIONARY WAR - 1776 - DEDICATED TO ALL OUR PATRIOT ANCESTORS WHO SACRIFICED THEIR LIVES, FAMILIES AND FORTUNES TO SECURE OUR - "FREEDOM." Wording at bottom reads: MINUTEMAN - SPONSORED BY BREVARD COUNTY CHAPTERS OF THE DAUGHTERS AND SONS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

Over three years ago Compatriot Ben DuBose was asked to join a committee created by the Brevard Veterans Center as they planned to build a Veterans Memorial Plaza. Ben was assigned as the liaison for the Brevard Chapter SAR and as coordinator for the design, creation and fund raising efforts between the SAR and the DAR to establish the centerpiece monument dedicated to the AMERICAN REVOLUTIONARY WAR.

After attending most of the monthly meetings for over three years where the committee reviewed and approved plans for the various monuments, the Memorial Plaza became a reality. About 400 people attended the dedication which opened with great pomp and circumstance. Monuments and various paving stones were dedicated to the following: American Revolution; Civil War, Spanish American War, WWI, WWII, Korean War, Vietnam War, MIAs & POWs and the Medal of Honor for all our services, plus to some of those who served. A monument for the Gulf War has received its final funding and will be dedicated before the end of the year. For more information on this group, or to purchase a paving stone you can go to:

Are you eligible?

Do you have a Revolutionary Patriot in your family tree? Membership in the Sons of the American Revolution (SAR) honors and preserves the legacy of your Patriot ancestor. Over two hundred years ago, American Patriots fought and sacrificed for the freedoms we enjoy today. As a member of SAR, through participation in the Society's various programs and activities, you can continue this legacy by actively supporting historic preservation, promotion of education, and patriotic endeavors. For membership information go to <http://www.flssar.org/Helper.htm>.
